Total Foreign Business Is $6,379,000,000, Against 10 Billion Previous Year

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 .- American foreign trade for the fiscal year which ended 'June 30, suffered in common with the general world depression, according to an analysis issued to-night by the Commerce Department. The department, however, found the grea decline in value from the previous year to be due in a large degree to fall in prices rather than in quantities The country's total foreign trade for the fiscal year 1922 was $6,879,000, for the fiscal year 1922 was $6,879,000,000, of which $2,608,000,000 was in imports and $3,771,000,000 exports, compared with $40,170,000,000 of the previous year, divided between $3,654,000,000 of imports and $6,516,000,000 of exports. The nation's favorable trade balance for 1922 was only slightly over $1,000,000,000, as against nearly $3,000,000,000 the previous year.

"For the pear 1921-22," the department said, "the excess of exports over imports of $1,163,000,000 was liquidated in part by $449,000,000 net imports of precious metals, and this, together
